If you are looking for additional activities, I have made a list of sight word activities that you can do with your child at home:

1. You can make a "Word Wall" at home. Write the sight words on Post-it notes and display them on the fridge or on any wall. Help your child master these basic sight words by reading and pointing to them every day. They can even spell them by saying them aloud to you.
2. Go outside and write the words with chalk.
3. Make a word collage. Write a word on a piece of paper. Have your child place stickers, glue tissue paper, beads, etc. on top of the letters you make.
4. Make words with play dough. First roll the play dough into snakes. Use the snakes to form the letters. You can also use cookie cutters, if you have them.
5. Sensory words: Sprinkle salt, flour, or oatmeal onto a cookie sheet. They can use their finger to make the words. Gently shake the tray to erase so they can make more.
6. After reading a book, have your child look back into the pages and see if they can point and locate words that they have learned.
7. Write each sight word on an index card and practice.
8. "Heidi Sight Words" on youtube is wonderful and fun!
